

Seminar “Social-ecological perspectives on mobility”

TU-Dortmund University, 3rd-4th July 2023

Monday, July 3rd, 2023

8.30-9.00 | Welcome and refreshments

9:00 - 10:30 | Session 1: Introductory talks

A brief welcome and introduction to the plans for two days (ca 5 minutes). Each presenter has up to 20 minutes + 8 minutes for discussion.

Chair: TBD

Giulio Mattioli

Social-ecological perspectives on mobility - beyond dichotomies: introduction to the seminar

Petter Næss

Urban sustainability responsibilities of the European planning profession in the next decades

Lisa Jacobson

Living within Safe and Just Earth System Boundaries

10:30 - 11:00 | Coffee break

11:00 - 12:30 | Session 2: Between the social and ecological (I)

Each presenter has 20 minutes + 10 minutes for discussion.

Chair: TBD

Elias Willberg, Henrikki Tenkanen, Tuuli Toivonen

Toward integrating environmental and social sustainability in accessibility research

Michał Czepkiewicz, Filip Schmidt, Dawid Krysiński

A safe and just space for urban mobility: Applying the framework in two Polish cities

Kevin Dillman

A socio-ecological assessment of mobility systems and early perspectives on future research pathways

12:30 - 13:30 | Lunch

13:30 - 15:00 | Session 3: Between the social and ecological (II)

Each presenter has 20 minutes + 10 minutes for discussion.

Chair: TBD

Ákos Gosztonyi, Sanna Ala-Mantila

Air pollution- and mobility-related disparities before and during the COVID-19 pandemic in Helsinki Metropolitan Area, Finland

Filip Schmidt, Maria Lompe, Marek Jaskólski

Struggles to reconcile different dimensions of justice? Discourses and Experiences around Clean Air Zones in Poland

Dawid Krysiński, Michał Czepkiewicz

The influence of accessibility, personal abilities, norms, and values on the social acceptance of restrictive local transport policies: insights from Poland

15:00 - 15:30 | Coffee break

15:30 - 17:00 | Session 4: Reflections, challenges, and ideas related to studying the social-ecological nexus in mobility

A round table where each team or individual presenter shares their reflections, challenges, and ideas related to current and future research on the topics covered on day 1.

Evening | Dinner

A voluntary meeting at a restaurant in the city

Tuesday, July 4th, 2023

8.30-9.00 | Welcome and refreshments

9:00 - 10:30 | Session 5: Between the short and long-distance (I)

Each presenter has 20 minutes + 10 minutes for discussion.

Chair: TBD

Johanna Raudsepp, Jukka Heinonen, Michał Czepkiewicz, Kevin J. Dillmann, Árora Árnadóttir

Carbon footprints of travel in the Nordics: who meets the 1.5-degree global warming target?

Sarah Olson, Juudit Ottelin, Jukka Heinonen

Sustainability of different private car options from consumer's perspective compared to car-free lifestyle

Filip Schmidt, Marianna Kostecka, Michał Czepkiewicz

The process of social institutionalization of air travel and its determinants: the case of two Polish metropolitan areas

10:30 - 11:00 | Coffee break

11:00 - 12:30 | Session 6: Between the short and long-distance (II)

Each presenter has 20 minutes + 10 minutes for discussion

Chair: TBD

Jörgen Larsson

Is a renaissance of night trains in Europe a potential climate solution?

Giulio Mattioli

Studying lock-in and inequality in long-distance travel: interim findings of the LDS project

Mònica Guillen-Royo

Flying less and wellbeing. Engaging Norwegians in reducing the flight intensity of social practices (FLYWELL)

12:30 - 13:30 | Lunch

13:30 - 15:00 | Session 7: Reflections, challenges, and ideas related to studying long-distance travel

A round table where each team or individual presenter shares their reflections, challenges, and ideas related to current and future research on the topics covered on day 2.

15:00 - 15:30 | Coffee break

15:30 - 16:30 | Workshop session

A workshop summarizing the round table sessions and drafting a position paper on the seminar's topic